

State of California HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES AGENCY

DIANA S. DOOLEY
SECRETARY

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
June 4, 2012

Contact: (916) 654-3304

“Let’s Get Healthy California” Task Force Appointed First Meeting June 11, 2012, in Los Angeles

Sacramento – California Health and Human Services Agency Secretary, Diana S. Dooley announced today the members appointed to the Let’s Get Healthy California Task Force and the Expert Advisors charged with developing a 10-year plan to make Californians healthier. The appointments are made pursuant to Governor Edmund G. Brown, Jr.’s Executive Order.

The Task Force will be Co-Chaired by Secretary Dooley and Don Berwick, MD MPP who is a senior fellow at the Center for American Progress, is the former president and CEO of the Institute for Healthcare Improvement and served by appointment of President Obama as the Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services until December, 2011.

“With the leadership of Dr. Don Berwick and California’s world-class talent in health, technology, education and research, it wasn’t hard to assemble this energetic group of leaders for our work ahead,” said Secretary Dooley. “With the knowledge, diversity and experience of these appointees and the support of so many others committed to our success, I look forward to receiving an innovative plan to reduce the burdens of chronic and preventable diseases and improve the health of all Californians.”

The Task Force and the Expert Advisors will work together to gather, evaluate and prioritize the best ideas and practices and organize them into a 10-year plan to improve quality, control costs, promote personal responsibility for individual health, and advance health equity. The report will establish baselines for key health indicators, identify obstacles, inventory best practices, provide fiscally prudent recommendations and create a sensible framework for measuring improvements in key areas including:

- Reducing diabetes, asthma, childhood obesity, hypertension, and sepsis-related mortality.
- Reducing hospital readmissions within 30 days of discharge.
- Increasing the number of children receiving recommended vaccines by age three.

The first meeting of the Task Force will be held in Los Angeles on June 11, 2012. The plan will be presented by December 15, 2012. The members of the Task Force and the Expert Advisors are below.

Aging

Alcohol and Drug Programs

Child Support
Services

Community Services
and Development

Developmental Services

Emergency Medical Services Authority

Health Care Services

Managed Health Care

Managed Risk
Medical Insurance Board

Mental Health

Public Health

Rehabilitation

Social Services

Statewide Health
Planning and Development

Let's Get Healthy California Task Force

Co-Chairs

Don Berwick, MD, MPP, FRCP, Former President and CEO of the Institute for Healthcare Improvement, and former Administrator of the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. He is one of the nation's leading authorities on health care quality and improvement.

Diana Dooley, Secretary, California Health and Human Services Agency. Prior to her appointment by Governor Jerry Brown, Ms. Dooley was President and CEO of the California Children's Hospital Association.

Members

Bruce Bodaken, Chairman and CEO, Blue Shield of California. Passionate about Blue Shield's not-for-profit mission, in 2002 Mr. Bodaken became the first health plan CEO to offer a specific proposal to cover the uninsured. He also transformed the Blue Shield of California Foundation into one of the state's largest healthcare grant makers, with more than $125 million in donations during the past four years.

Dr. America Bracho, MPH, CDE, Executive Director, Latino Health Access, Santa Ana. Dr. Bracho is recognized as a local, regional and national expert in the area of Latino health issues, health education, minority women, cultural competency, community organizing, diabetes education and HIV.

Lloyd Dean, President and CEO, Dignity Health (formerly Catholic Healthcare West). Mr. Dean is responsible for overall management, strategy and direction of Dignity Health's hospitals, ancillary services, home health care and medical group foundations. He is a frequent national speaker and has received numerous awards for his healthcare leadership.

Susan Desmond-Hellmann, MD, MPH, Chancellor, University of California, San Francisco. Dr. Desmond-Hellman is an accomplished scientist, researcher and educator who previously served as president of product development at Genentech. In 2009, Forbes magazine named her as one of the world's seven most "powerful innovators," calling her "a hero to legions of cancer patients."

George Halvorson, Chairman and CEO, Kaiser Permanente. As the leader of the nation's largest nonprofit health plan and hospital system, Mr. Halvorson has won many awards for his commitment to health technology and quality improvement and has written extensively on the U.S. health care system.

James T. Hay, MD, President, California Medical Association. Dr. Hay is a family physician at the North Coast Family Medical Group in San Diego and has been actively engaged as a champion and advocate for improved medical practice.

Ed Hernandez, O.D., State Senator, Chair, Senate Committee on Health. As a practicing optometrist in private practice, Senator Hernandez is pragmatic and innovative in his approach to addressing health and health care policy.

Mitch Katz, MD, Director, Los Angeles County Department of Health Services. Prior to his tenure with Los Angeles County, Dr. Katz was the head of the San Francisco public health department and is a widely recognized and respected provider of health services through public and community action.

Pam Kehaly, President and General Manager, Anthem Blue Cross of California. Ms. Kehaly is responsible for the management of local group insurance business in California. Through Anthem Blue Cross and its foundation, she is engaged in the fight against the childhood obesity epidemic, including a pilot program that will bring fresh fruit and vegetables to schools in underserved communities.

Kenneth W. Kizer, MD, MPH, Director, Institute for Population Health Improvement, University of California Davis Health System and Distinguished Professor, UC Davis School of Medicine and Betty Irene Moore School of Nursing. Prior to Dr. Kizer's launch of the new Institute he was founding President and CEO of the National Quality Forum. Previously, as Undersecretary of Health, U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, he was chiefly responsible for the transformation of the VA healthcare delivery system.

Richard Levy, PhD, Chairman of the Board, Varian Medical Systems, Inc., the world's leading manufacturer of medical devices and software for treating cancer and other medical conditions. Dr. Levy has been a leader in his company and with the Silicon Valley Leadership Group in the active and effective engagement of employees in their own health.

Bob Margolis, MD, Managing Partner and CEO, HealthCare Partners. Dr. Margolis has been an innovator in the managed care industry for more than 20 years and is a well-regarded health expert because of his leadership in quality improvement, integrated delivery systems and physician practice management.

Joy Melnikow, MD, MPH, Director, Center for Healthcare Policy and Research and professor of medicine, Department of Family and Community Medicine, University of California, Davis. Dr. Melnikow is a family physician and researcher who contributes on many state and national policy groups including the U.S. Preventive Services Task Force to address policies to improve health outcomes, taking into consideration patient preferences and decision making, cost-effectiveness, underserved populations, and health disparities.

Arnold Milstein, MD, Professor, Stanford University's Clinical Excellence Research Center. Dr. Milstein leads this collaboration of the Schools of Medicine, Engineering, and Business to design and test new health care delivery models to lower per capita health care spending and improve clinical outcomes. He also serves as the Medical Director of the Pacific Business Group on Health, the largest business coalition on health care improvement in the U.S.

Bill Monning, Assembly Member, Chair of the Assembly Committee on Health. Prior to his state service, Assemblyman Monning was a professor at the Monterey College of Law and a professor of International Negotiation and Conflict Resolution at the Monterey Institute of International Studies. He is a leading champion of preventive medicine.

Ed Moreno, MD, MPH, Director and Health Officer, Fresno County Department of Public Health and President, Health Officers Association of California. In addition to his County service, Dr. Moreno teaches resident physicians at the Fresno campus of the University of California, San Francisco and is actively engaged to reduce health disparities in the San Joaquin Valley.

Steven Packer, MD, President and CEO, Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula, and Board Chair, California Hospital Association. Dr. Packer has been actively engaged in public policy and advocacy in furtherance of quality improvement and care delivery reforms.

Dave Regan, President, Service Employees International Union – United Healthcare Workers - West. Mr. Regan is a political and healthcare reform activist with 20 years of leadership in the labor movement who is deeply committed to improving healthcare quality, lowering costs and forging new relationships to foster health.

Joe Silva, Superintendent, Tuolumne County Office of Education and past president, California County Superintendents Education Services Association. Mr. Silva is a tireless advocate of children, believes in the importance of physical fitness, created a highly successful anti-obesity campaign and recently received a lifetime achievement award from the Association of California School Administrators.

Anne Stausboll, JD, CEO, California Public Employees Retirement System (CalPERS). Prior to leading CalPERS, Ms. Stausboll was Chief Deputy State Treasurer. As one of the single largest purchasers of healthcare, CalPERS has a significant stake in the triple aim of improving healthcare, lowering cost and promoting health.

Kelly Traver, MD, Founder and CEO, Healthiest You Corporation and the author of The Program, based on her research on the human brain and its resistance to change. Before founding her current company, which works with employers to empower and engage employees in their own health, Dr. Traver was Global Medical Director for Google.

Kerry Tucker, Principal, Nuffer, Smith, Tucker, Inc., Member, California State Board of Food and Agriculture. As a public relations professional, Mr Tucker has worked extensively with national and California agri-food clients and with the California Institute of Food and Agricultural Research, where he founded Food Foresight, the first issue anticipation system exclusively for the field of food and agriculture.

Antronette “Toni” Yancey, MD, MPH, Professor of Health Services and Co-Director, UCLA Kaiser Permanente Center for Health Equity within the Fielding School of Public Health. Dr. Yancey is a renowned expert on chronic disease prevention. She serves on the Institute of Medicine National Childhood Obesity Prevention Committee, Partnership for a Healthier America Board of Directors, and National Physical Activity Plan Coordinating Committee.

Expert Advisors to the Let’s Get Healthy California Task Force

Honorary Chair

Robert K. Ross, MD, President and CEO, The California Endowment. As a pediatrician, a member of the California Health Benefit Exchange and a passionate advocate for improving health, Dr. Ross has led many efforts directly related to the Governor’s Let’s Get Healthy Order, including Building Healthy Communities and Health Happens Here.

Members

Ann Boynton, Deputy Executive Officer for Benefit Programs, Policy and Planning, California Public Employees Retirement System (CalPERS). Ms. Boynton is a recognized expert in health care policy and health care information technology issues.

Nadine Burke Harris, MD, MPH, Founder and CEO, Center for Youth Wellness. Dr. Burke runs this San Francisco-based comprehensive health and wellness center that integrates medical, mental health, holistic and social services for an evidence-based approach to improving the health and well-being of urban children and youth.

Sophia Chang, MD, MPH, Director, California HealthCare Foundation’s Better Chronic Disease Care program, which focuses on improving clinical outcomes and quality of life for Californians with chronic diseases. Dr. Chang was previously the director of the Veterans Health Administration’s Center for Quality Management in Public Health.

Molly Coye, MD, MPH, Chief Innovation Officer, UCLA Health System. Dr. Coye is an internationally recognized leader in advancing innovative approaches to healthcare delivery, adopting new technologies and shaping national health policy.

Patricia “Pat” Crawford, DrPH, RD, Co-founder and Director, Atkins Center for Weight and Health, CE Nutritional Specialist, and Adjunct Professor, University of California, Berkeley. Dr. Crawford has conducted extensive research in the prevention of childhood obesity. She is currently leading studies evaluating the impact of programs and policies to improve the foods in California schools and is on the Institute of Medicine’s Standing Committee on Childhood Obesity Prevention.

Steve Fields, MPA, Executive Director, Progress Foundation. Mr. Fields was a member of the President’s Commission on Mental Health Task Panel on deinstitutionalization, rehabilitation and long-term care. He has served three terms as the president of the California Association of Social Rehabilitation Agencies.

Deborah “Debbie” Freund, PhD, MPH, President, Claremont Graduate University. Dr. Freund is an internationally-recognized health economist, known in particular for her research in the areas of Medicaid and health care outcomes.

Jane Garcia, MPH, CEO, La Clinica de La Raza. Ms. Garcia runs La Clinica, one of the largest community health center organizations in California. Ms. Garcia has a longstanding involvement in advocacy for healthcare and serves on a number of Boards for local and statewide healthcare organizations, including The California Endowment.

Alan Glaseroff, MD, Director, Stanford Coordinated Care. Dr. Glaseroff was previously the chief medical director for the Humboldt-Del Norte IPA and is nationally known for his innovations in the areas of primary care design, diabetes and self-management. He was named California Family Physician of the Year in 2009.

Neal Halfon, MD, MPH, Director, UCLA Center for Healthier Children, Families and Communities, and Professor of Pediatrics, Health Services and Public Policy. Dr. Halfon is an internationally recognized expert on children’s health, health care, and health policy. He currently directs the Health Measurement Network for the National Institute of Health funded National Children’s Study, and the Life Course Research Network for the federal Maternal and Child Health Bureau.

Richard “Dick” Jackson, MD, MPH, Professor and Chair, Environmental Health Sciences, UCLA School of Public Health. Dr. Jackson has done extensive work on the impact of the environment on health, particularly in children. He also chaired the American Academy of Pediatrics Committee on Environmental Health, has served as the Director of the U.S. Centers for Disease Control’s National Center for Environmental Health, and is an elected member of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences.

Jim Mangia, MPH, President and CEO of St. John’s Well Child and Family Center, a network of nonprofit federally qualified health centers providing medical, dental and mental health primary care services to more than 140,000 patient visits in south Los Angeles. Mr. Mangia has been a leader in integrating preventive strategies to improve population health outcomes in inner city communities.

Elizabeth “Beth” McGlynn, PhD, Director, Kaiser Permanente’s Center for Effectiveness and Safety Research. Dr. McGlynn is an internationally known expert on methods for evaluating the appropriateness and quality of health care delivery. She is a member of the Institute of Medicine and serves on several boards and national advisory committees.

Lenny Mendonca, MBA, Senior Partner, McKinsey & Company, San Francisco. Mr. Mendonca has helped dozens of government, corporate and not-for-profit clients solve their most difficult management challenges and has written and spoken extensively on health care issues. He is chair emeritus of the Bay Area Council and is chair of the Economic Institute of the Bay Area.

Mary Pittman, DrPH, President and CEO, Public Health Institute (PHI). Dr. Pittman is a nationally recognized leader in improving community health, addressing health inequities among vulnerable people and promoting quality of care. Her overarching goal is for PHI to become known for leadership in creating healthier communities.

Wells Shoemaker, MD, Medical Director, California Association of Physician Groups and co-chair California Quality Collaborative. Dr. Shoemaker has implemented successful programs across California to address health disparities, improve diabetes care and create employee wellness plans.

Steve Shortell, PhD, MPH, MBA, Blue Cross of California Distinguished Professor of Health Policy and Management and Dean, School of Public Health at the University of California, Berkeley. A leading health care scholar, Dr. Shortell has done extensive research identifying the organizational and managerial correlates of quality of care and of high performing health organizations. He is an elected member of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences and is helping lead a number of initiatives to improve individual and community health.

Anthony Wright, Executive Director, Health Access. Mr. Wright is a leading voice for health care consumers in California, and since 2002, he has led the statewide health care consumer advocacy coalition for quality, affordable care for all Californians.

Ellen Wu, MPH, Executive Director, California Pan-Ethnic Health Network. Ms. Wu serves on numerous boards and advisory committees including the Managed Risk Medical Insurance Board, the California Budget Project and Oakland's Parks and Recreation Advisory Commission. She also teaches health policy and public health at San Francisco State University.

###