CWDS-CARES Update

June 13, 2018

CWDS / Child Welfare Digital Services

Project Purpose

To provide Child Welfare Workers with the tools and capabilities they need to enhance their efficiency and effectiveness at providing for the safety, well-being, and permanency of children and youth who are at risk of abuse, neglect, or exploitation.

Project Approach

- Regular releases of valuable working code into production
 - The CWS-CARES project will provide a new technology platform and suite of digital services to be released incrementally over the next few years.
 - The new digital services are being developed as a collection of web applications, accessible from both computers and mobile devices.
 - The new digital services leverage the principles of Agile frameworks, human/user-centered design, and open source software.
 - The new digital services will provide an intuitive user experience and new capabilities.
 - The new digital services will ultimately replace a number of redundant systems.

Development Principles

- Focus on building the best product
- User-centered design is more valuable than legacy parity
- Adopt a new perspective
- CARES is an independent system that will exchange data with external systems including Court Case Management systems
- Build and deploy iteratively - first release a minimum viable product and then improve on it based on user feedback

2018/19 Project Focus

- Product Strategy

- Develop the product blue print (“build plan”)
- Update the Product Roadmap
- Fully adopt the concept of MVP
- Develop single DesignOps backlog

- Legacy Data Strategy

- The CARES data strategy will be informed by the Product Strategy
- Develop “to be” data model
- Assume that we will add components to our technical architecture to help stage, transform & consume legacy data
- Evaluate & plan the scope of data cleanup
