Presentation: Professor Mark Courtney, University of Chicago
- Professor Courtney presented recent findings from the California Youth Transitions to Adulthood Study (CalYOUTH) pertaining to outcomes through age 21 for youth transitioning to adulthood from foster care. The presentation described outcomes based on administrative data on employment and earnings, postsecondary educational attainment, and needs-based program participation (CalWORKS, CalFresh, and SSI) for a much larger population of transition-age foster youth who exited care before and after implementation of extended foster care in California.
